- All employees have the right to work in an environment free from all forms of discrimination and conduct which can be considered harassing, coercive, or disruptive, including sexual harassment. No employee, either male or female, should be subject to unsolicited and unwelcome verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.
- Sexual harassment does not refer to comments or compliments that constitute socially accepted behavior. Rather, sexual harassment refers to conduct that is unwelcome, that is personally offensive, that debilitates morale and that, therefore, interferes with work effectiveness.

- All people related to the workplace (applicant, participant, subgrantee, funding applicant, subcontractor, employee, applicant for employment) are covered by this policy.

Policy and Procedure:

Definitions: Sexual Harassment and Discrimination Policy (Department of Administration, Human Resource Management – State of Nevada Employee Handbook):

Sexual harassment is a form of discrimination that is unlawful under State and federal statutes. The State of Nevada regards it as a very serious offense that, under certain conditions, can lead to termination even on the first occurrence. “Sexual harassment” means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or any other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment.
2. Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting that individual.
3. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with the individual’s work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment.

Employees have the right to raise the issue of sexual harassment or discrimination without reprisal. If an individual believes they have been a victim of sexual harassment or discrimination, they are encouraged to advise the individual believed to have engaged in sexual harassment or discrimination, that the conduct is unwelcome, undesirable, or offensive. If the individual elects not to confront the alleged harasser or if the conduct persists after objection, the individual should inform their immediate supervisor, or next level of authority, and/or Human Resources. Harassment is an organizational problem and the State wants to know about it so that prompt and appropriate action can be taken to ensure that no further incidents occur with the present victim or other employees in the future. If the individual experiences or witnesses sexual harassment or discrimination, they should report it by doing one of the following:

- Report the incident(s) to your agency coordinator.
- File an online complaint at: <http://neats.state.nv.us>.
- Complete form Sexual Harassment or Discrimination Complaint form (NPD-30) located on the Division of Human Resource Management website.
- Call the Division of Human Resource Management’s Harassment/ Discrimination Hotline at (800) 767-7381

Employees are also entitled to file a complaint with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (<https://www.eeoc.gov>), the Nevada Equal Rights Commission

(https://detr.nv.gov/Page/Equal_Rights_Commission) or consult with an attorney or labor representative. The State of Nevada Executive Branch Sexual Harassment and Discrimination Policy prohibits retaliation against employees who bring sexual harassment or discrimination charges or assist in investigating charges. Any employee bringing a sexual harassment or discrimination complaint or assisting in the investigation of such a complaint will not be adversely affected in terms and conditions of employment, nor discriminated against or discharged because of the complaint. Failure to participate in any investigation of alleged discrimination, including an investigation concerning sexual harassment, may lead to disciplinary action. (NRS 233.160, 613.330, 613.405, NAC 284.650, 284.771)
